EURHOPE - EU AS A SOLIDARITY'S HOUSE
FOR MINORS OUT OF HOME

Newsletter n°19

Edited by Hellenic American Union

Welcome to a new edition of the EURHOPE Project Newsletter!

As the project continues to advance, we are pleased to introduce one of its most important dissemination and sustainability tools: the official website.

The platform has been designed as a central hub where professionals, stakeholders, organisations, volunteers and citizens can access comprehensive information about the project, its objectives, activities, partnership and results. It also serves as a dynamic space for sharing news, resources and achievements throughout the project lifecycle.

Through this digital environment, EURHOPE aims to ensure transparency, accessibility and long-term impact, making all project outputs available to those working to support minors living outside their family environment.

The EURHOPE website

The official EURHOPE website provides easy access to all relevant information, contents and results about the project and its progress. Among its main sections, users can find:

- Home – An overview of the project and its contribution to strengthening civic participation and European awareness among minors out of home.
- About the Project – Detailed information about the project's objectives, target groups, expected impact and main activities.
- Partnership – A presentation of all partner organisations from Italy, Spain and Greece, highlighting their expertise and contribution to the project.
- Contact – A direct communication channel for stakeholders interested in learning more about the initiative or collaborating with the consortium.
- News – A regularly updated section featuring project milestones, meetings, events and dissemination activities, as well as interesting articles on different subjects regarding the topic of the project

Project results and resources

A key feature of the EURHOPE website is the dedicated area for project results and educational resources.

Visitors can access the Training Toolkit, developed to strengthen digital skills, life skills, socio-political knowledge and understanding of European values among minors and volunteer adults. In addition, the website hosts the Methodological Vademecum, designed to support professionals working with minors out of home through innovative, game-based and participatory approaches to civic engagement.

These resources have been created to ensure long-term usability and transferability, enabling organisations across Europe to benefit from the knowledge generated by the project.

The News section complements these resources by providing regular updates on project developments, upcoming activities and achievements, helping stakeholders stay connected with the EURHOPE community. We have also developed seven articles on different topics related to our project, specifically developed by our partners according to their expertise and field of work.

What is EURHOPE

Protecting the rights of children, especially the most vulnerable, is one of the objectives of the EU, which is committed to reducing poverty and social exclusion, including those outside the family (Porto Social Summit, 2021). Precisely with regard to this target, already in 2009 the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) approved the Guidelines for the Alternative Care of Children, to ensure that each state ensures that children grow up in their own families whenever possible and, if not, that alternative forms of care provide a protected and supportive environment.

For this reason, EURHOPE proposes to include young people in new networks of positive relationships with the educating community through civic participation paths based on values and initiatives at European level, able to answer the question "what can the EU offer me to improve my condition and, at the same time, what can I do to make my voice heard?". The proposed actions will enable out-of-family children to rethink and act for themselves to build a Europe closer to their needs and to the idea of a democratic and inclusive society.

Visit the EURHOPE website and discover how the project is building opportunities for participation, inclusion and active European citizenship for minors living outside their family environment.
